

ASID Kitchen & Bath Tour 2011 Design Concept Statement
1800 Goodrich Ave, St. Paul

Every design element in this home performs double duty. Carefully selected fixtures and finishes are fresh and updated, yet complementary to the traditional architecture. At the same time, warm woods combine with painted finishes and unique tile arrangements to create a warm and energizing living space for this homeowner's young family and their busy lifestyle.

Our client loved their St. Paul neighborhood but found their growing family no longer fit the existing housing stock in the area. Determined to stay in the area they searched for a lot on which to build a home that was well suited to the neighborhood and well-suited to the needs of today's family. Busy professionals who treasure family time, their goal was to have a traditional home with ease of maintenance, and plenty of space for children to play.
